

Milo had made a moon puppet from a spare blue sock. It had round paper eyes, a crooked smile and a little pocket full of yellow paper stars.

Tonight was the Moon Sock Show. Leo had made a cardboard stage. Ava had drawn the tickets. Milo had practiced the puppet's grand entrance seven times.